

beta gel

give your skin a boost

beta gel has been formulated particularly for sensitive, irritated or inflamed skin. Designed to trigger the revision of damaged skin, beta gel works to help reduce swelling, redness and inflammation within the skin.

Free radicals (environmental factors) are a major cause of premature ageing, and in order to protect our skin we need to boost our skin's immune system.

beta gel is packed with vitamin B and C and a highly potent beta glucan B6 yeast wall extract. Beta glucan is an anti-inflammatory and immunological agent, which can encourage healthier skin cells to fight back against free radicals.

Formulated to suite those who suffer from acne and eczema to actual burns and razor rash, beta gel is a must-have gel for everyday use and for those times when your skin needs an extra boost.
